

Bob Knipe
Assistant Professor
Southern Connecticut State University
New Haven, CT

Dr. Knipe has over fifteen years of experience in the field with a strong background in PK-12 education, having been named Teacher of the Year at the University of Texas Elementary School in 2011. He earned his PhD in Curriculum and Instruction Education from The University of Texas. Currently, Knipe is an Assistant Professor in the Physical Education Teacher Education program at Southern Connecticut State University. As the founder of the PE Pep Talk project, he advocates for the support and recognition of Physical Education teachers. Knipe has served in several state level positions and has served as SHAPE America's Nominations Committee as a member and chair, a member of the Physical Activity Council, led the Student Special Interest Group (SIG) and helped to establish the Undergraduate Student Leadership Network.